LISA KIRK

Self-described "artist/activist" Lisa Kirk made a splash in the early '90s as a luscious lesbian muse in photographer Steven Meisel's safe-sex campaign. On the other side of the camera, Kirk makes sexy and serious work about female identity and politics. An underground artist, this girl's work can be a bit hard to find, but her video titled NYPHOMERCAL is part of the permanent collection of the Long Beach Museum's Video Library.
